

Free Training

The beginning, revitalisation or continuation of a rewarding career in today's modern and competitive world invariably requires the regular up-skilling of knowledge, and the constant application of new technology, performance, aptitude and practice. Demonstration of willingness to up-skill can be the official stamp that characterises your upward career mobility through any organisation.

Knowledge is the answer and qualifications are the keys to your success. 'Qualifications' does not automatically imply long hours slogging away over burdensome textbooks under a naked bulb, all alone, late at night. If you have gained knowledge and skills through your work, life experience, training or prior education, recognition of prior learning may be for you.

Take a moment to consider what would be the best career move for you right now – a Certificate III in Business, a Certificate IV in Business, a Certificate in Frontline Management, or perhaps a Diploma of Management? If you are still at school, perhaps a school based traineeship is for you, kick-starting your career with a Certificate II or III in Business.

Ask your employer to check whether they might be eligible to receive Government funding to cover the entire cost of your training while you receive a nationally accredited qualification. Give us a call.

Professor Ashley W. Goldsworthy AO OBE

Chairman & CEO

Springwood
1300 458 222
www.taab.com.au

